

Pieces of the Puzzle

A good puzzle is fair. Nobody is lying. It's very clear, and the solution depends just on you.

What are objects?

When you try to solve a jigsaw puzzle, you are constantly searching for the right piece for a given space. When you begin an EngageOne document, your effort will be very similar - arranging objects on the page to match your design.

The pieces you have available are:

- Images
- Lines
- Ovals
- Rectangles
- Rounded Rectangles
- Text Boxes
- Text
- Tables

You can create any of these you need and further modify their styles, changing line widths, fill colors, and the like so you can solve your particular jigsaw puzzle.

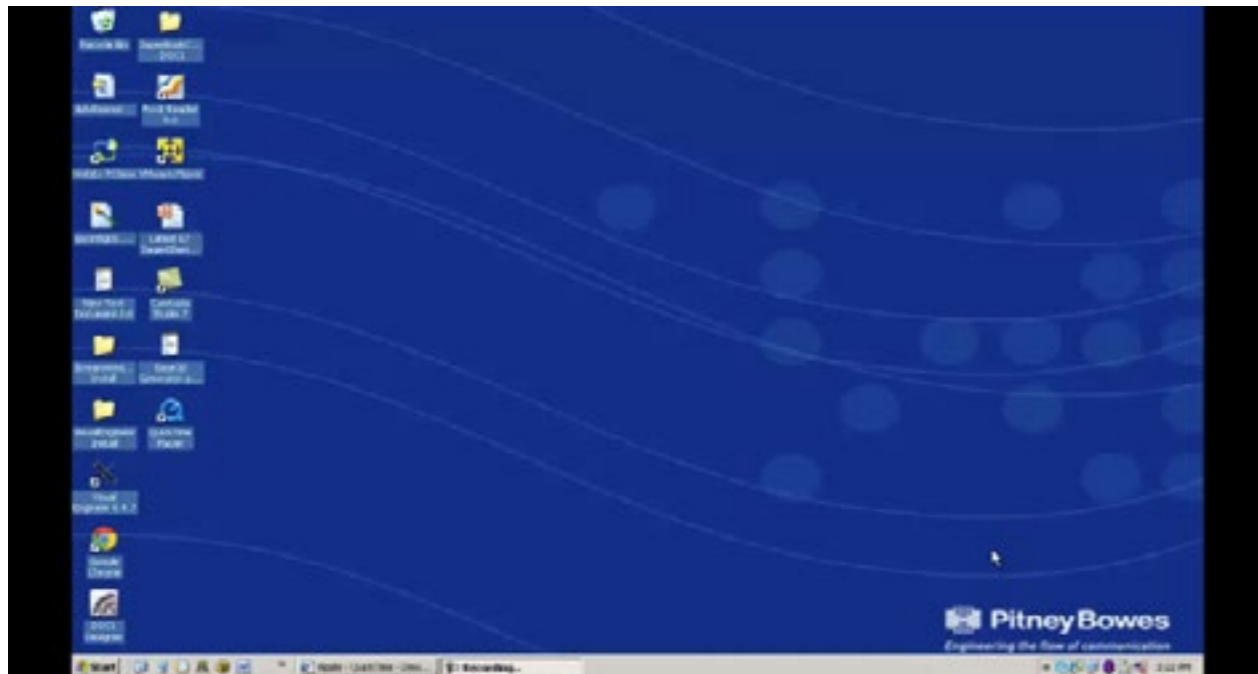

SCHEDULE

What you'll learn: In this chapter, you'll learn how to create a new, empty document and then place and style each type of object.

Assignment: Your assignment will be to learn how to create and modify the style each of the objects above, and then create an advertising flyer for an event you choose.

Coaching Session: Your time with your coach will include going over what you learned doing the assignment and a more in-depth discussion on how objects "flow" down the page.
